RUMORED DEATH OF THE BOER COMMANDER

THE HOLLAND A TERROR.

A New Engine of Destruction Added to the Navy.

NEW YORK, Nov. 16.—The official reports on the Holland submarine boat from John Lowe, Captain, United States Navy, and the Board of Inspection and Survey, the president of which is Frederick Rogers, United States Navy, were made public today. Both reports deal at length in the technicalities of the trials and both agree that the trials have been successful in almost every particular. Captain Lowe, in addition, submits a report of his observations as ordered by the Government.

The trial of the Holland boat took place on November 8 before the Board of Inspection and Survey. The start was made off New Suffolk, L. I., with nine men on board, or four more than when going into a fight. There were three Whitehead torpedoes on board. The tests consisted of running on the surface and under the water, diving and torpedo firing, and they were all very successful.

Captain Lowe concludes his technical report as follows: "I report my belief that the Holland is a successful and veritable submarine torpedo-boat, capable of making a veritable attack upon an enemy unseen and undetected, and that, therefore, she is an engine of warfare or terrible potency, which the Government must necessarily adopt into its service."

Of his personal observations, he says: "Concerning the worse than worthlessness of the present above-water torpedo system, its methods, theories and appliances, the need for a deliverance from its absurdities and from the fool's paradise of its false security, and instead the absolute need of a real torpedo system, such as the submarine system, I have already reported under date of November 14, 1898.

"I would like to give further reasons why a submarine service should at once be organized as a matter of public necessity and security. In the first place we must concede that, notwithstanding The Hague conference, the time has not yet arrived for nations to disarm; on the contrary, that nation which is not ready to fight, that ceases to study war, that ceases to use the most frightful appliances when war is made, has already placed itself in a position of inferiority and has ceased to possess those valuable attributes which are well described in the term manhood.

"We have distant dependencies, the Philippines, Hawaii and the like. Will an enemy seek to bring us to terms by attacking these? Perhaps so. But if so, the move would be a weak one, exceedingly weak. Let us not deceive ourselves. Any powerful enemy would not play warfare in that fashion. They would strike us in the vitals. An eight-day dash across the Atlantic would bring their ships to Montauk Point, where they would encounter the American fleet, which being destroyed by force of numbers, the remainder of the enemy's ships could pass on and anchor in Long Island sound in perfect security and very shortly Long Island would become a foreign possession.

"We need right off and right now fifty submarine torpedo vessels in Long Island sound to preserve the peace and to give potency to our diplomacy.

"It seems to be quite a necessity that this Government should not allow this skill and knowledge of those owning and running the Holland boat to pass out of its own hands from native to foreign lands, but should forestall such a catastrophe by purchasing the Holland and putting the Holland people under some ban whereby they will be prevented from disclosing secrets to the disadvantage of the United States."

THE ROBERTS CASE.

Polygamous Mormon Congressman Will Not Resign.

NEW YORK, Nov. 15.—Congressman B. H. Roberts of Utah, who is at present in the city, today denied the report that he intends to resign his seat shortly after Congress meets, in pursuance of the wishes of the elders of the Mormon church.

"I have seen many such stories since I came East," said Roberts, "but there is absolutely no truth in them and absolutely no basis for the statements. I will say as emphatically as I can say it that I don't intend to resign and never had any such intention since my election. I was fairly elected and propose to fight it out to the end with all the vigor at my command. Those who know me are aware of this intention on my part and will not credit these reports, no matter in which form they may be couched.

"I have also heard it said and have seen it in print, that the presence of many Mormons of influence in New York at the present time is for the purpose of inducing me to resign my seat and go back to Utah. As a matter of fact, there has never been a suggestion made from any Mormon elder or Mormon of influence that I should resign. The Mormon church has no more to do with politics than the Episcopal church or the Roman Catholic church. It is not in politics. I was elected on purely political lines and will go to Congress absolutely free of this so-called church influence over me."

How it Detected a Toy Watch in a Child's Stomach.

CHICAGO, Nov. 16.—"Tick-tack in Alma's tummy." By this baby's gibberish a three-year-old girl who uttered the words between spasms of coughing, meant to tell her mother, Mrs. Ernest Todd, of 225 North avenue, that she had swallowed a toy watch. Despite the fact that the brass plaything had mysteriously disappeared and little Alma persisted that it was in her "tummy," the mother would not believe it until an X-ray picture made of Alma's digestive organs today verified the childish words. The skiagraph plainly shows the miniature timepiece lodged in the stomach of the child. A surgical operation will be necessary to remove the brass toy.

The accident occurred Sunday afternoon. Alma was lying on a couch in the parlor of her home, dangling her watch at the end of the chain above her head. The open-mouthed child was looking up at the plaything when her mother left the room. A moment later Mrs. Todd was summoned back by choking cries from Alma. Putting her index finger in her mouth, she sobbingly declared: "Tick-tack" had gone that way.

Monday the girl complained of stomach ache and Ernst Todd, her father, summoned Dr. Schaller. The latter, when he heard the child's story, took her to a laboratory and a skiagraph showing the location of the brass watch in the stomach is the result.

The ladies of St. Clement's Chapel propose holding their fair on Saturday next, Dec. 2, at the late residence of Mrs. Gulick, King street, near Alakea. They have provided a large number of artistic articles suitable for Xmas presents, among which is a lot of very pretty dolls. We hope this fair will be generally patronized.
